

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to a composite of materials having at least one large loop of continuous reinforcement within a vinyl ester resin. The composite further has spanner structures formed by using either chopped or woven mat fibers to span areas not incorporating the loops of large continuous fiber reinforcement.

10079840-001001